Spanning from Prague in the Czech Republic all the way to the blue-water coast of Lisbon on the Mediterranean, the cities and towns of Europe have an old-world architectural heritage that can only be created with the passage of time. As decades and centuries passed, ancient trading posts evolved into municipal halls; gravel trails were replaced by cobblestone, then by cement. Then, layer upon layer of architectural history was revealed by exposure to foot and wagon traffic -- with the history of the continent today revealed in every courtyard, train station, and grand hotel throughout the continent.

The intersection of these weathered, time-worn surfaces has been reproduced in a remarkable porcelain tile series by Mediterranea - PROVINCIAL. Offered in a 12" x 48" size to highlight its stunning graphic look, the Provincial series delivers an old-world look in a high-tech porcelain tile, utilizing the latest technology to make the old world come to life again.

Provincial is a totally innovative concept, new to the American marketplace. Mediterranea's acclaimed design team has reimagined the intersection of wood and cement graphics, joining these time-worn surfaces in a look that perfectly emulates historic bridges, side streets and alleyways in the charming villages that dot Europe.

Provincial is available in 4 colors to perfectly suit any design concept: Champagne, Merlot, Prosecco and Chardonnay. Because Provincial is precision-cut with rectified edges, tiles can be set with grout joints sized to a minimum. One by one, the tiles are laid to create a perfect replication of the weathered surfaces of the European countryside.
